NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—Extra police guards patrolled New York's water front to guard against a possible recurrence of the serious rioting yesterday when two strikers were shot, scores injured and many arrested in a clash between rival factions of the striking longshoremen.

As the strike entered its twenty-first day officials of the United States shipping board appeared to be more optimistic over the situation than they had been for many days. Of the board's 200 ships put up in the harbor, 25 were worked yesterday—an increase of 15 over Sunday.

The breach between the longshoremen's factions apparently is widening and the insurgents declare they will "fight to the finish."

ACTING MAYOR ACTS

CANTON, O., Oct. 28.—State officials who last night heard Actus Mayor Henry A. Schrantz declare that lawlessness in connection with the steel strike must forthwith cease and call upon the city council for funds to hire additional emergency police, expressed the belief that the new executive is determined to rule with a firm hand and that state troops may not be needed to cope with the situation. State Mediators Thomas F. Duffy, chairman of the state industrial commission, and George F. Miles, of the state board of mediation, who heard the acting mayor declare his stand, said they felt assured that he meant business and would see that the steel companies, the strikers and the public were given a square deal.

It is understood that the new executive expects to use the emergency police for patrol duty in the residential and business sections, thus releasing all the regular patrolmen for service in the strike areas. The acting mayor intimated that unless the steel companies voluntarily agree to keep their special officers within the mill enclosures, he would recommend to council that city ordinances permitting mill guards to go onto the streets be amended to prohibit them from leaving company property. Officials of the Canton Central Labor Union requested that this be done.

Labor leaders declared that most of the trouble had been instigated by mill guards on the streets. The acting mayor said he knew of instances where the mill guards had been at fault. Several members of council also declared they had seen instances complained of by labor representatives.

MORE FURNACES RESUME

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Oct. 28.—Two more open hearth furnaces were started today at the Ohio works of the Carnegie Steel Company, observers reported and officials said that another finishing mill would be operated during the day.

About half of the Mahoning Valley's open hearth furnaces are now in operation except at the Republic Iron and Steel Company where a smaller percentage is producing. Observers at mill gates said that more men entered the plants this morning, though strike headquarters claims that the strikers are holding their own. The valley continues quiet, with little picketing and no disorder. Rain this morning kept

WEST VA. MINE IS BLOWN UP

(ASSOCIATED PRESS DISPATCH)
WINCHESTER, Va., Oct. 28.—Governor Cornwell, of West Virginia, who has been visiting his brother here, left hurriedly today for Charleston after receiving a message that a coal mine in Raleigh county had been blown up and that the situation there was serious. The governor said the message gave no details.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Oct. 28.—W. J. Heatherman, chief of the department of mines said he had no information concerning the blowing up of mine in Raleigh county. He did have, he added, a report that three mining machines and three pumps of the Pemberton Fuel Company at Pemberton, had been destroyed by an explosion some time between the closing of the mine Saturday night and the resumption of work Monday.

20 DROWN WHEN A LAKE STEAMER SINKS AT PIER

(ASSOCIATED PRESS DISPATCH)
MUSKEGON, Mich., Oct. 28.—Twenty persons lost their lives this morning when the Crosby liner City of Muskegon, formerly the city of Holland, while trying to make the harbor here struck the south pier at Muskegon channel and was smashed to pieces sinking in four minutes.

Three of the victims were passengers, the remainder being members of the crew. There were about 23 passengers aboard, but the vessel lay against the pier so that most of them were able to make their way to safety.

The City of Muskegon left Milwaukee in clear weather last evening but was caught in a raging northwester that struck Lake Michigan early this morning. Riding the storm well Captain Edward Miller declared it was safer to attempt to make the harbor than to turn about. came into the channel, a big wave dead were ushered into the presence caught it and smashed the craft against the end of the pier.

GARY PLANTS ARE ALL IN OPERATION; DISTRICT IS QUIET

CHICAGO, Oct. 28.—Every department of the United States Steel corporation's plant at Gary, Ind., today was reported by company officials in operation and from other sections of the Chicago district came reports of gradual improvement that has extended over several days. The situation at Hammond, and Indiana Harbor, Ind., where martial law was declared when disorders threatened, was so nearly normal today that five companies of Indiana state militia men had been returned home.

Picketing by strikers virtually has been abandoned at Gary, where women members of strikers' families have taken up that work.

Gas Attack is Aimed at Family In Cincinnati

CINCINNATI, O., Oct. 28.—Unidentified persons early today directed a gas attack against the family of Mrs. Sophie Cork, of this city. Mrs. Cork and her daughters and sons-in-law, Mrs. John Drexler and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Metzler, were sitting up with the sick child of Mrs. Drexler when they felt themselves slipping into unconsciousness. Drexler saw a mist issuing from the key-hole of the door. It filled the room and was visible. The doors were quickly opened and the air soon cleared. When the door was thrown open the sound of running footsteps and breaking glass was heard. The police concluded that the vapor was either chloroform or

U. S. SOLDIERS GOING TO DO WORK OF STRIKING LONGSHOREMEN

Uncle Sam got tired of having his transports held up in the port of New York because of the longshoremen's strike and sent for some soldiers. The men seen here are part of 500 regulars taken to New York from Newport News. They are seen on their way to work at the Hoboken piers.

ADMINISTRATION PLANS STRINGENT MEASURES IF MINERS GO ON STRIKE

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 28.—President Wilson and his cabinet are still hopeful that the United Mine Workers of America will heed their appeal to substitute reason for force in the coal crisis, but they are not neglecting to prepare to meet force with force if that shall be the choice of the workers.

Although the government is not disclosing any details of its plan to use every means to meet any emergency that may arise as a result of the strike of bituminous miners, scheduled for Nov. 1, it may be said that complete details of procedure have been perfected.

Attorney General Palmer, who undoubtedly will be the first administration force to move against the miners if they persist in striking in the face of the president's declaration that the proposed conflict is a crime, conferred for more than an hour today with Secretary of Labor Wilson. The two discussed the government's plans for meeting the situation, in case the miners' executive board, at its meeting in Indianapolis on Wednesday, should ignore the government's warning.

Will Seek Injunction

It is practically certain that the government proposes to proceed against the officials of the miners' union under wartime legislation, the food and fuel act particularly. The first move, it was predicted tonight, would be to procure a temporary injunction in a federal court against the union, restraining execution of the strike.

Plans for this injunction suit are said to be complete, to be executed immediately should the officials of the mine workers, after their conference Wednesday, refuse to call off the strike. The government, it is said, will proceed at once to obtain an injunction which, it is believed, would be granted. In that case the officials of the mine workers, if they defied the injunction, would be contempt of the federal court.

Army Is Held Ready

The government is making ready its military force to protect the mines and to keep them in operation, do everything in its power to break the strike, and to punish the men responsible for it.

"The government's plan may sound rather harsh," said a high official today, "but this is a harsh situation. This is no time for temporizing. The president of the United States has offered the miners facilities for settling their differences and they have told him that they did not want his reasonable plan; they wanted to force a settlement and to force it upon the operators in a manner that would injure the whole industrial fabric of the United States and threaten the life of every man, woman, and child in it."

Peril to the Public
A coal strike of the proportions contemplated would endanger the health and life of all the people. The miners have said they would arbitrate, but would strike. The vapor was either chloroform or

SUSPENDED MAYOR AT CANTON WILL APPEAL TO COURTS

COLUMBUS, Oct. 28.—Specific charges in writing will be served on Mayor Charles E. Poorman, of Canton, suspended yesterday by Governor Cox for alleged failure to preserve order in connection with the steel strike there, it was announced today. There will be a formal hearing of the charges before the governor, and if they are sustained the mayor may be removed permanently, it is said.

According to Attorney Frank S. Sweitzer, of Canton, who accompanied Mayor Poorman here yesterday for the hearing before the governor, the charges of the governor will be met by Mayor Poorman and if it becomes necessary, recourse will be made to the courts. The formal hearing, according to Sweitzer, will take place within the next two weeks.

DRYS PUSH BILL FOR ENFORCEMENT THRU THE SENATE

MINERS TAKING COURAGE FROM DRY LAW VETO

President Objected
Because of War
Time Enforcement.

House in Uproar as Executive Message
Received Monday.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS DISPATCH)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—Officials today planned their hope of averting the strike of bituminous miners called for Saturday on the meeting tomorrow in Indianapolis of the executive board of the United Mine Workers of America.

Study of union by-laws, officials said, today revealed that the executive board has power to call off the strike or at least to order a postponement. Should President Wilson's appeal to the miners be heeded to the extent of a postponement, officials here are of the opinion that the strike will be averted for a postponement would be certain to bring with it negotiations for a new wage agreement.

MINERS ENCOURAGED

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Oct. 28.—President Wilson's veto of the prohibition enforcement bill yesterday was advanced today by officials of the United Mine Workers of America as an argument in favor of their contention that the "war emergency" has passed and that the miners therefore are no longer by wage agreements entered into for the continuation of the war."

It is hoped, they said, that the action will swing public opinion their way and aid in securing their demands for a thirty hour week and 60 per cent increase in pay, failure of which has resulted in an order for a strike of all bituminous coal miners on November 1.

TRAINMEN TO STRIKE

CHICAGO, Oct. 28.—Twelve thousand members of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen embraced in fourteen lodges in the Chicago switching district today were ready to strike Thursday unless wage demands filed July 3, last, were met "in full" and a vote on the proposition by the other lodges of the 180,000 trainmen throughout the country was under way. Headed by W. G. Lee, president of the brotherhood, a committee of twenty-three tomorrow will confer at Washington with Walker D. Hines, director general of railroads, and in the event the demands are not met have been empowered to call out all passenger and freight brakemen, suburban service men and yard men.

More Than Enough

The vote in the house yesterday of 176 to 55, twenty-two more than necessary, came within three hours after the president's veto was announced from the White House, and followed an uproar in the house chamber lasting from the time the executive message was read until the final roll call. Leaders pleaded for postponement pointing out that a bare majority of the membership was present, but it was to no avail for the dry forces would not be denied.

Bowling over every attempt to postpone action, the prohibitionists set a record for congressional action for so far as veteran members and employees could remember never has a presidential veto been overridden within three hours after it was announced.

Prussian Women Outnumber Men Reports Indicate

BERLIN.—The war has left Prussia with a surplus of women over men, there being now, it is estimated 1,107 females for every thousand males. This, it would be generally assumed, correspondingly diminishes women's matrimonial prospects in Prussia.

Dr. Robert Behla, a government expert on vital statistics, expects, however, an increase over the normal percentages of marriage in Germany, contending that such increase is a natural consequence of all wars. He says that wage earners generally marry more rapidly than do others after the war because of the improvement in their economic condition due to their increased wages.

The number of marriages in Prussia last year was about 100,000 less than took place in the last peace year when there was a surplus of only five women to every thousand men.

FAVORITE GAME OF DEMOCRATIC TICKET "PASS THE BUCK" PLAYED BY COUNCIL

Each lays the blame upon the other for closing of bridges.

METHANEY IS ABSENT

City must stop polluting "Hawg Creek" by emptying refuse in it.

City council met Monday night in an adjourned session, and usual nothing of vast importance was done. A peaceful little game of "pass and buck" was thoroughly enjoyed by all present, and Service Director Methaney, again as usual, was conspicuous by his absence. It was this little detail that probably saved the day, for President Dempster seemed to have something very important which he was very anxious to ask the service director.

Bridges seemed to be the main topic of discussion. Not the ones we have at present but the ones we are liable to get. Councilman Muntis placed City Engineer Miller "upon the carpet" in the absence of Methaney, and a volley of questions were fired at the young engineer. Miller answered all he could, or cared to, and then passed the little token to Methaney.

Muntis desired to know why the Elm street bridge had been closed and no notice of this given out. He stated, many persons, not knowing the span is closed drive out that way only to find that they have to detour upon reaching the river. Miller stated, workmen took the floor of the bridge up sometime ago with the intention of laying a new one to suffice for the winter. However, it was then discovered that many of the iron girders had busted and broken. The structure was considered unsafe, and it was decided to construct a new one.

The bridge, according to officials, will remain in its present condition until after the election when it will be determined whether or not the bond issue calling for the costs of the new structure will be passed by the people. Miller stated, within the very near future a detour will be made over Pine street.

Councilman Brennenman then took up his pet subject—the Metcalf street bridge. He was informed that Z. Blodget, contractor, Monday night filed his bond for construction of this bridge, and work will probably commence this week.

The ordinance calling for cuts in the salaries of many city employees, and the elimination of a few offices, was given its first reading Monday night. Three ordinances regulating the market were given their third readings and passed by the body.

A communication from the state board of health ordering the city to cease pollution of Ottawa River by allowing the sewer disposal of Lima to empty into the stream. This same notice was served on the city in 1916, and it was then that the

MAYER ADDRESSES SHAWNEE FARMERS

"What Good Roads Will Mean to Farmers of Shawnee Township," was the subject of a talk made Monday night by M. L. Mayer, of this city, to a gathering of farmers in Shawnee township. This was the first of a series of meetings to be held in various communities in Allen county in behalf of the two mill levy proposal for the purpose of improving the roads, which will be submitted to voters at the coming November election.

Tuesday night, C. A. Rusler, former deputy county auditor, will address a gathering at Elmo, at which time he will fully explain the workings of the two mill levy, and seek the support of every farmer in that community. L. E. Ludwig will speak on the proposal at Elida, Tuesday.

John Schleick, progressive farmer, will speak at Gomer Tuesday night upon the same question, providing he is able to get away from the Merchants' Association, where he is to speak, early enough. Mr. Schleick is unable to do so in time, another speaker will be engaged.

Wednesday night, George Jayne and Samuel Roeder will address a meeting at the Bath township house, while M. Austin Potter will speak to a gathering at West Caro. R. B. Dunn and W. C. Bradley will explain the question at Perry tavern house Wednesday night. H. O. Bentley is scheduled to address a meeting at Bluffton also on Wednesday night.

Rev. Franklin Emphatic

Rev. Franklin was just as emphatic in his statement and fully agreed that the board was acting with good business judgement.

The Times has urged that the schools not become a political football. It has taken no part in the present dirty fight. Prof. Collins other than to urge that voters think a great deal before they turn out the present administration, but it seems that the republican organization is so despondent over its certain defeat in the fight for municipal offices that it has to dig deep into the mire to throw mud in the fight for the Board of Education.

Gramm Attends Community Meet

R. A. Gramm of the Gramm-Bernstein Company has returned from Columbus where he, together with 21 other large manufacturers, met to discuss Americanization work thru Community Service. The meeting was called by members of the State Finance Committee, to make plans to secure Ohio's quota of $200,000 in the $2,000,000 campaign that is to be started shortly.

Community service, incorporated to organize to take care of the leisure time of civilians in and around industrial cities in the same way that War Camp community service looked after soldiers during the war. Mr. Gramm was also on the program as one of the speakers.

HARDING TO DECIDE

COLUMBUS, Oct. 28.—Definite announcement as to whether he will be a candidate for the republican nomination for president, or seek re-election in 1920, probably will be made by Senator Warren C. Harding of Ohio, in Columbus, Friday, at meeting of the republican state central committee, according to special despatches today from Washington.

G. O. P. CANARD ON SCHOOL FURNITURE CHARGES DISPROVED

Well Known Citizens Investigate "Election Story" and Give Facts.

BOARD SAVES MONEY

Dirty Fight on Supt. Collins Is Becoming Disgusting to Lima Voters.

Following the publication of a story in the morning republican organ to the effect that the present Board of Education had spent money recklessly for furniture not needed, and had so much of it that it had to be stored, two well known Lima men of standing made a thorough investigation of the story today and proved it to be a canard of the worst type—an election "story" of the type the republicans have been using for many years.

Mr. Frank E. Harman, owner of the large furniture establishment bearing his name and a life-long republican, read the story in the morning paper and quietly made an investigation of his own accord. When he reached Central High School he ran into Rev. Cecil Franklin, pastor of the South Side Church of Christ, who had also gone to the building to look into the furniture story to find out whether it was true.

Mr. Harman was very emphatic in his condemnation of the story in a statement made to a Times reporter.

Harman's Statement

"I found that the furniture that is stored is for use in the library, which cannot be opened right now because the room is being used for class purposes," Mr. Harman stated. "I think you will admit that I know something about furniture, for I have been in the business for years and I want to tell you that the furniture was secured at a rare bargain and will save the taxpayers a great deal of money," he continued.

Invoices Show Cost

I ask for the invoices to find the cost of the material, and when I checked them up I found that you could not buy this furniture for twice the price paid. I found tables that cost $30 that cannot be replaced now for less than $60 wholesale. I found chairs that cost $3.50 that are now worth $7.00 wholesale.

The board could now sell all this furniture for twice what they paid for it, without an effort. However, they have use for every piece of it and when the library is ready it will be furnished for half the present cost of the furniture. It seems to me that a public board should not be condemned and continually harped at for doing just what they were elected to do—to use the same business judgement for the city that they would for themselves."

John Schleick, progressive farmer, will speak at Gomer Tuesday night upon the same question, providing he is able to get away from the Merchants' Association, where he is to speak, early enough. Mr. Schleick is unable to do so in time, another speaker will be engaged.

WASTE BAGS BEING FILLED FOR NURSERY

Limaites are having an object lesson in community rummaging. People in all walks of life, young and old alike, are rummaging, ransacking the deep dark corners of closets and attics and store-rooms for rubbish. Everyone is filling the Day Nursery waste bags that are to be collected and sold to raise funds for the Day Nursery.

Now that the war has ceased, public spirited citizens are turning their attention more and more to the topic of child-welfare. The systematic training of the contestants has shown us what science and care could do for the manhood of the country. Now it remains to see what can be done by a widespread drive on conserving baby-hood.

The officers look for an unreserved support from the entire population of Lima in the waste campaign,

Just Camouflage

THEY SAY you can't teach an old dog new tricks—there must be something in this when you apply the axiom to human folks, for the republican gang in Lima seems averse to trying something new.

With absolutely nothing to offer voters of Lima the gang now comes along with the old gag of "Harley or Socialism," when the truth is that Harley is badly beaten, his own friends acknowledge it and he may even be a bad third.

Frank Burkhardt will be elected Mayor of Lima next Tuesday, because he will have the undivided support of the Democrats of the city, while about half of the republican votes will go to him.

Too much noise is being made about a straw vote carried on by an evening newspaper which is given to extra editions and stunt stuff that always fails to wear. Employees of one plant laugh about the vote there, saying that many voted two or three times, while many cast their ballots for the Socialist candidate who would not think of doing so at the polls.

Stripped of the unusual camouflage, at which they are artists at preparing, the republican gang asks you to vote for a splendid gentleman, who refuses to come out from under the domination of a political crew, of which Lima has had entirely too much.

If John H. Riley had started out in his campaign with a fair and square announcement that he would ditch the gang he would have held the republican vote solid.

He would not or could not do this. And losing half of his own party will spell disaster at the polls. He has been made the goat for the crew, which ditched Carl Rowlands at the eleventh hour because they were afraid he would clean out the City Hall.

Now the gang is desperate, and fighting with their backs to the wall are dredging up the old cry of "Harley or a Socialist." If you don't want a Socialist mayor vote for Frank Burkhardt.

The Fall Rains

THE FALL rains have been paying their annual visit. We had unusually dry weather for some time, but the crops having been made and harvested, and there having been no depressing statements made as to the effect of the drought, city people have gone their way without knowing there was a lack of rain. But it was a drought, though, and a severe one. The creeks dried up, springs faded away, trees gave out, pastures burned up and the roads became choly with dust. Now, however, the drought has been broken.

These fall rains are a very important matter. It takes a lot of water, after the hot summer, to replenish the earth with a sufficient supply. The swampy have to be dried for winter, is the way the old timers used to put it, and there was a great deal of wisdom in the remark. Most of our swamps have now been drained and brought under cultivation; however, and no longer need to be filled.

The idea was that Nature looked after the inhabitants of the swamps and the inhabitants required plenty of water—and it was a good idea. Nature does that very thing, always. So the pioneer, knowing the ways of Nature, was sure that cold weather would not come until the swamps were full, he did not believe Nature would seal up the swamps with not enough water in them to protect the vegetation and the animal life from destruction because of a lack of water. And he was correct. Nature makes no such mistakes, for it always arrived in the fall and the swamps were filled and winter came and the earth rejoiced.

Feared a Nation of Sportsmen

A PATRIAL VOX CHIEFLY makes a statement in his recent book that shows a certain discount at a nation of sportsmen. When the German army was to be winning in 1914, when all of Germany stood in armament factories, he says he felt that the German people did not understand that the greatest divisor, the polo playing English, still remained.

He might have gone further and said that the baseball playing Americans were to be found from coast to coast. Sports may not have won the war, but the people who enjoy sports did.

No man on earth has ever witnessed such interest in a sport as we in this country witnessed this fall. All else beside baseball was forgotten for a month or more. The echoes of the games were to be heard through the columns of the newspapers all winter. But even the distance with a shrug of the shoulders, there is a reason for this great interest manifested in a baseball series. It is that nothing else could the solidarity of the nation, if you please, if we were to take such interest in sports, where so many people seem to derive enjoyment from a game, despite the class differences that arise to vex them, they are capable of uniting and making common cause, or without. Von Tirpitz despised the English but he had a love of the game of polo that they despised, and was so enraged to know that a people who found delight in whole other sports were not to be overcome by a few defeats in the field, nor to grow disengaged by the sinking of ships.

GOOD EVENING—How times do change! Here's a beautiful countess, who has married a bricklayer. She knows who gets the money nowadays, anyhow.

The republican gang waving of the stars and stripes would look a whole lot more consistent if they had not turned down a war veteran, back got the gate!

WORRY A REAL DESTROYER OF BEAUTY—SIMPLE REMEDIES

By DR. LEONARD KEENE HIRSHBERG

A. B. M. A., M. D. (John Hopkins University)

Do you ever worry? If you do, you are going to lose whatever beauty you have. What you worry over has nothing to do with the matter itself. Worry is not due to your lack of money, happiness, family ties, friends or a thousand other things.

Worry is due to yourself. It is internal, not external. A healthy physique will bear all sorts and multiplicities of troubles without worry.

Not so an ill, tired or defective person. His immunity to worry is lost. Worry, once it enters your anatomy, thrives and becomes the poor relation that is ever with you.

Worry destroys beauty, according to Dr. Luther Gulick. A worrying woman, for example, is stoop-shouldered, irritable and glowering in anger at the world's fancied harsh treatment. She fails to see that she is treated better by the world than many others who never worry.

The woman who worries much is round-shouldered, flat-chested, untidy and slovenly. Her face is drawn, eyebrows knotted, and forehead wrinkled. Her mouth is thin and droopy and her lips are nervous.

Some Physiological Facts

Worry destroys efficiency and spoils digestion. No one has a good liver or a digestion worth while who worries. If you go to the can to a dog's tail you may starve him, though he eats. The tin will worry him to a frazzle. His food is unassimilated.

When you worry, your muscles become flabby, because worry causes an excess of an internal fluid—called a hormone—to pour into the fleshly parts and automatically poison them. Some say this "hormone" comes from the "near-kidneys" and others say it comes from the thyroid gland. Certain it is that you can draw something out of the blood of a very tired subject and inject it into another unworked one and poison the latter's muscles.

Worry is never so deep-seated that it cannot be cured. One of the first things necessary to the treatment of worrying bodies is fat. When the weight begins to go down, if you could imprison a person who worries in a gorgeous dining-room with lovely music and a liberal supply of the most "tuffing" sort of foods, the worry would slowly be replaced by adipose tissue.

Ways to Cure

Another method for the cure of other "worries" is to make the one so troubled act just as if he were not worrying. It is a newly discovered fact in medicine that whatever a man does—even if he is insincere and does not at first believe it—will sooner or later so change his innermost nature that he will be that which he thought he was faking or imitating.

The reason that children are often encouraged to play soldiers or boy scouts is because experimental psychology taught Lord Roberts and some of our leaders, that what boys play at and pretend, they usually become. The followers do not know this, but the chaps do. Therefore the newest relief and treatment of worry is to "pretend not to worry." The doctor and the patient play a make-believe game just as children do. The sufferer who worries carries out in baby fashion all the seemingly silly stunts ordered by the doctor.

These "stunts" consist in writing jokes, repeating funny jokes, playing Old Maids and other childlike games of cards, going to pound parties, etc.

Short Stories of the Buckeye State

WHEN M'KINLEY PICKED HIS CABINET.

E. J. Edwards, E. G. Riggs, James Phillips, Jr., and Henry L. Stoddard, political newspaper writers of long experience, have been engaging in a controversy in eastern newspapers over the question of whether the cabinet of President McKinley was hand picked" for him by others or not, one feature of which—how Mark Hanna came to succeed Senator Sherman in the upper branch of congress—will specially interest Ohio people.

Henry L. Stoddard, who spent most of the time between McKinley's election and his inauguration, at Canton, maintains that the president-elect was most painstaking in making his cabinet selections and that instead of being ruled absolutely by Mr. Hanna to whom he was of course under great obligations for his nomination and election, he went directly contrary to Hanna's wishes in at least one particular. Stoddard says that he was present in the McKinley parlor on one occasion while Hanna was there insisting on the appointment of a Wisconsin Republican to a cabinet position, when McKinley broke in with "It is no use arguing further, Mark: he has been a lobbyist down at Washington, and no lobbyist can sit in my cabinet."

Instead of Hanna engineering the deal by which Senator Sherman was taken from the senate and he (Hanna) put in the vacancy, it came the other way round, according to Mr. Stoddard's version. He says he knows that what Hanna wanted was to take a house in Washington, in which he would live part of the time, as the chairman of the Republican national committee, and without official rank of any kind, stand to the administration in somewhat the relation that Colonel House does now to the Wilson administration, but McKinley would not have it and gave Hanna plainly to understand that if he was to be in Washington at all it must be in some official capacity.

Just what steps Hanna took to induce Senator Sherman to exchange his seat in the senate for a place in the cabinet, the newspaper illuminators of the history of that interesting period in Ohio politics leave to guess. Mr. Stoddard says that is a separate story, but intimates that the chance could not have been very objectionable to the venerable Sherman.

When Jack and Jane looked back shot you down just as he did enemy in the war."

The three men looked at each other with the most horrid grin CUT their faces that Jack and Jane ever seen and then one of them said "Don't worry. Captain Brave will not find us or you until we're ready to let him."

Jane was holding tight to Jack and crying. Jack tried to be brave as long as he could and then he, too,

"I wish Captain Brave and Ladydear were here," sobbed Jane. "I do, too," said Jack. And he wondered what Captain Brave would do if he were in Jack's place.

"I know he wouldn't cry," thought Jack. "He'd try to be brave and cheer up Ladydear even if there didn't seem to be any chance of getting away." So Jack stopped crying. "We'll just have to wait for Captain Brave to come for us. He'll be here in a little while, I'm sure," said Jack. "They'll tell the police and send word to Signor Angelo. Before you know it they'll be riding up here in one of Signor Angelo's big autos with policemen in it, arrest these men and take us back to the hotel."

But when the afternoon went by and the children saw through a tiny window in one end of the cellar that it was getting dark outside it was pretty hard work to make believe that everything would come out all right.

SAYS OHIO COULD BE MADE WORLD'S INDUSTRY CENTER

Representative B. F. Welty Urges Canal to Connect Lake Erie With River

SURVEY BEING MADE

Suggests Bill Providing Establishment of Canal Zones Along Waterways.

WASHINGTON, D. C. Oct. 28—Expressing the hope that the legislature of Ohio at its coming session will do its part toward making Ohio "the industrial center of the world" by passing legislation to promote the construction of canals to connect Lake Erie with the Ohio river Representative B. F. Welty of the Lima district, one of the original promoters of Ohio water transportation, has sent an interesting letter to C. C. Crabbe, secretary of the joint legislative committee of Ohio with headquarters in the state house at Columbus. Mr. Crabbe wrote to him asking for suggestions to be placed before the state legislature.

Representative Welty in his letter says:

"The people of this country will

IF KIDNEYS AND BLADDER BOTHER

Take Salts to Flush Kidneys and Neutralize Irritating Acids.

Kidneys and Bladder weakness result from uric acid, says a noted authority. The kidneys filter this acid from the blood and pass it on to the bladder, where it often remains to irritate and inflame, causing a burning, scalding sensation, or setting up an irritation at the neck of the bladder, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night. The sufferer is in constant dread, the water passes sometimes with a scalding sensation and is very refuse; again, there is difficulty in avoiding it.

Bladder weakness, most folks call it, because they can't control urination. While it is extremely annoying and sometimes very painful, this is really one of the most simple ailments to overcome. Get about four ounces of Jad Salts from your pharmacist and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast, continue this for two or three days. This will neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation to the bladder and urinary organs which then act normally again.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used by thousands of folks who are subject to urinary disorders caused by uric acid irritation. Jad Salts is splendid for kidneys and causes no bad effects whatever.

Here you have a pleasant, effervescent lithia-water drink, which quickly relieves bladder trouble.

not continue their mad rush to the cities very much longer, for no laborer can be truly happy unless he has a patch of ground that he can work to assist in his support. There is no reason why the region located between the Ohio river and Lake Erie should not become the industrial center of the world.

"The war department is now engaged in making a survey with a view of selecting the most feasible route or routes for canals from Lake Erie to the Ohio river. Because of these matters, I have suggested the passage of a bill providing for canal zones on each side of these canals to vote to abandon them, or expend money to assist in the improvement of the now abandoned waterways.

Would Cheaper Coal

"You will readily see that the expenditure of $150,000,000 to canalize the Ohio river and its tributaries will be useless unless canals (at least one canal) are deepened and widened for the purpose of permitting these boats, when once loaded with coal, to pass uninterrupted to the north, where they need this coal, thus saving to every consumer of coal in the northern and western part of Ohio from 50 cents to $1 per ton. I do hope I can count upon the support of your committee in this matter."

Tracing the history of canal development in Ohio for the information of the legislature, Mr. Welty says:

"About 100 years ago the state became intensively interested in connecting the Ohio river with Lake Erie, because of the building of the Erie canal and with the aid of land grants from the federal government constructed three canals across the state, but because of the selfish interest of the railroads the state permitted these canals to become useless as highways of commerce.

Resumed in 1894

"In 1894 water transportation was again revived and the federal government made a survey of the Ohio canals with a view of deepening and widening the same and filed a report with a favorable recommendation. In 1896, but nothing has been done in the matter up to the present time, save and except the authorization of a preliminary resurvey, under legislation passed by the Sixty-fifth congress.

"In the meantime, let us see what has been happening outside of Ohio. The state of New York expended approximately $151,000,000 to deepen and widen the Erie canal from Buffalo to New York and the federal government has expended almost $150,000,000 to canalize the Ohio river and its tributaries for the purpose of cheapening transportation from the coal mines to the consumer of coal. Last year the federal government appointed a commission to confer with a like commission from the Dominion of Canada, with a view to canalizing the St. Lawrence river, so that ocean-going vessels might dock at Cleveland, Toledo, Chicago, Duluth and other lake ports. Before the war Canada authorized the contract for deepening and widening the Welland canal.

Mrs. J. E. Maten, of West Wayne street, opened her home to a merry group of little tots, Saturday afternoon, when she entertained in honor of her daughter, Miriam's seventh birthday anniversary. The hours were from two to five and they were three of the happiest hours ever spent.

The decorations were miniature Hallowe'en suggestions while in the living room, where games were played and the time enjoyed, the effective black and yellow was used profusely.

In the dining room, the only table adornment was a mammoth pink and white birthday cake with candles. Unique favors were given to the children.

Those present were Mary Barrington, Charline Fischer, Kathleen Bassinger, Ruth Jones, Milda Orth, Laura Jane Gilbert, Marie Bishop, Jack Bassinger, Francis Shank, Bob Taylor and Gene Poyer.

Miss Martha Hawisher, of South Baxter street, was the week-end guest of friends in Springfield, returning to her home Sunday evening. Miss Hawisher formerly attended school at Wittenberg college.

AN OLD RECIPE TO DARKEN HAIR

Sage Tea and Sulphur Turns Gray,
Faded Hair Dark and Glossy.

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome.

Nowadays we simply ask at any drug store for "Wyle's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients, at very little cost. Everybody uses this preparation now, because no one can possibly tell if you darkened your hair, as it does so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears and after another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy and you look years younger.

Large black cats were stationed at intervals to frighten the lookers-on. The weird pumpkin faces added greatly to the ghoulish scene, the dining room being lighted with candles, while throughout the house only pumpkin heads and tall candles furnished the illumination.

Those enjoying the evening were Miss Mabel Bresne and her father George L. Bresne; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Banzitz, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bradley, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest DeVoe, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Roberts, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Chapman, Mr. and Mrs. William Roberts, Mr. and Mrs. A. TODAY—"The Pilot," by James Fenimore Cooper.
TOMORROW—"Thaddeus of Warsaw," by Jane Porter.

COOPER

At the age of 17, James Fenimore Cooper determined to enter upon a naval career in the service of his country. His apprenticeship was begun on a freighter sailing from New York to Cowes. On a stormy passage of 40 days, he endured the vigorous hardships of life before the mast. This was followed by an even rougher period of 52 days. These adventures furnished vivid material for thrilling episodes in his sea novels.

After this he served in the navy in various capacities, storing up invaluable experience to be relived by thousands in the pages of his books.

At the age of 21 he married. This fiery, irritable and strong-willed man was easily influenced throughout his life by his wife, to whom he was deeply devoted. Through her he abandoned his ambition for a naval career.

Not until he was 30, however, did he begin to write. His first novel was dull beyond belief. Nevertheless his friends urged him to try again. This time he laid the scene in his own land and wrote of patriotism, the passion of his own heart. "The Pilot" appeared in 1821 and was soon so popular as to make the largest sales yet won by an American writer.

Cooper had written his first novel to prove that he could invent a more interesting tale than one he had just read. He likewise wrote his

"THE PILOT"

By JAMES FENIMORE COOPER
 (Condensation by Alfred S. Clark.)

On a late afternoon of a winter's day, during the American Revolution, a rakish schooner and a majestic frigate anchored well inside a little bay on the northeastern coast of England. A whale-boat drove shoreward, a young officer scrambled up the steep cliffs and a few minutes later a mysterious stranger was transferred to the frigate's deck. He answered to the name of "Mr. Gray" and was said to be merely a pilot but he was greeted with surprising deference.

For no ordinary man would these vessels have ventured so near that coast of sand-bars and hidden rocks. The wind was a mere ruffle of air. But the incessant mutter of the long, slow waves foretold that a storm was brewing. Even more fitfully and faintly blew the land-breeze; the mutter of the waters grew deeper. Only here and there did a few stars twinkle between the fast gathering clouds. It was time to beat out to open sea if it were not even now too late. Men swarmed aloft and hung upon the yards; sails fluttered out; the anchor was pulled in. The frigate gathered headway. Then the faint breeze died. The spread of canvas hung useless; the currents drove the ship shoreward.

With a roar the wind came suddenly from the east. While spray dashed from the bow. Yet the Pilot paced the quarter-deck seemingly oblivious to danger. But open water was far ahead and suddenly from the forecastle came the dreaded cry, "Breakers, breakers, dead ahead!" The Pilot shook off his trance of thought. His orders thundered forth, sailors sprang hither and thither at his bidding, the frigate swung about at his cry of "Hold on everything!" Tortuously she picked her way through the twisting channels, in darkness amid the howlings of the great winds.

She shivered from bow to stern offshore with his enormous coxswain. Long Tom Coffin, had been nearly cut off from his schooner by an English cutter, but he scrambled aboard safely and the drum beat to quarters. While broadsides roared and the decks grew slippery with blood, the little fighting ship met and grappled. Before Barnstable could lead his boarders to the enemy's deck, Coffin tumbled into the sea. Shouting "Revenge Long Tom," the lieutenant rushed with his men upon the foe. It was fighting at close quarters and the issue was in doubt when the drenched and furious coxswain emerged from the sea and with his harpoon pinned the English captain to his mast. In a few minutes the Americans were masters of the cutter. Cowering in that scene of bloodshed the victors discovered the crafty Dillon, who pleaded to be sent off as a hostage, promising to return in person or to have Griffith delivered in his stead.

His word of honor was trusted and he was sent away with Long Tom. He luckily overheard Dillon's treacherous plot to entrap Barnstable's waiting party. The resourceful old seaman gassed Borroughcliffe and drove Dillon, at the point of his harpoon, back to the waiting schooner. By this time, however, a battery on the cliff brought down the schooner's mainmast. She was driven from her course by heavy seas. The masts were folded and anchors loomed, glistening shrub-like. Anchors dropped, but she ploughed on like a bobbing cork in rapids. Barnstable would have stayed by his ship but suddenly Long Tom seized him and hurled him over the bulwarks. "God's will be done with me," Ciffin cried, above the wind's roar. Dillon's lifeless body was rolled upon the shore, but Long Tom's stayed with the sea to which he had dedicated his life.

Surprise succeeded surprise at the Abbey. Barnstable marched his shipwrecked mariners into the building and they took possession, but they were soon made prisoners by the redcoats. Then the mysterious figure of the Pilot appeared at the door and behind him loomed marines from the frigate. Colonel Howard, an unwilling prisoner, was marched away with Cecilia and Katherine who could not be downcast at the triumph of their lovers.

Captain Borroughcliffe was freed, as was another inmate of the Abbey, Alice Ducombe. She had recognized the Pilot in his disguise when he was first captured. They had been lovers, but she was so staunch in her love for her King and she so hotly bloodshed that she had broken her heart to this "Mr. Gray" whom she addressed as John. She reminded him that did she but once call aloud his true name, the whole countryside would ring with it. What that name was is never revealed, but there was but one sea rover who could strike stark terror into all English hearts.

On board the frigate repeated conferences were held between the captain, Griffith and "Mr. Gray." Suddenly out of the fog drove a mountainous ship of the line. The drum beat aboard the frigate, salvoes leaped nimbly about the deck, clearing for action. The women were led below and gradually order resolved itself out of the chaos of shouting men. A terrific roar filled the air as three tiers of guns blazed a broadside from the English ship. A few sails and ropes were cut, but the frigate's sailing power was hardly affected. One chance ball struck the captain and hurled him to death. Griffith succeeded to the command and he was appalled as he saw the frigate hemmed about. To the east loomed the great ship of war and far in the northeast the sails of another frigate.

"What are we to do?" cried Griffith. "Fight them! fight them!" shouted the Pilot. "Let me proclaim your name to the men," Griffith appealed. But the Pilot refused. "Should we come to a grapple," he said. "I will give forth the name as a war-cry and these English will quail before it."

The ship of war was distanced, but she cut off a retreat and the frigate ahead had been reinforced by two others. The foremost manoeuvred with the American frigate for position. Broadsides crashed and they grappled. The American guns raked her foe and left her helpless, with useless ropes dangling from shattered masts. The deck was cleared and as another enemy appeared, Griffith shouted "Hoist away of everything!"

Fifty men flew aloft upon the spar and white canvass was spread from every mast. The frigate lunged ahead, but it could not outstrip its rival, and the halt to give battle had enabled the ship of the line to draw up.

Then for a few breathless moments the Pilot leaped into command. Breakers loomed ahead but he drove the vessels straight into the shoals, into narrow passages where white foam bubbled perilously close. The enemy dared not follow, and when night fell pursuit was hopeless.

Colonel Howard, fatally wounded in the battle, lived long enough to see Cecilia Howard and Katherine Plowden wedded by the chaplain to their lovers. His last words were spoken to Griffith. "Perhaps I may have mistaken my duty to America—but I was too old to change my politics or my religion; I—I—I loved the King—God bless him!"

The frigate drove on to Holland where the Pilot landed in a small boat that dwindled into a black speck and disappeared in the setting sun. Twelve years later Cecilia Griffith saw her husband's face cloud as he read in the newspaper of the death of a great man, but not even then did he divulge his name. He had promised to keep it secret. He said only. "Our happiness might have been wrecked in the voyage of life had we not met the unknown Pilot of the German Ocean."

Collective bargaining will be the rule of each successful business as soon as a majority of the employees are able to understand the English language, and possess the soul of democracy, in their hearts. American labor has seen the vision of a "promised land" wherein, "every man might sit under his own vine and fig tree with no one to molest or make him afraid," but labor can never reach the goal so long as one-half of the majority of the employees are able to understand the language of the other half, in their adopted land.

The Immigration Committee has bad weeks of hearings in the matter of constructive immigration, and hope to provide a means to build a little fire under the "melting pot" containing our alien population, so that there will be a division among them, giving an opportunity to those who desire to become American citizens and deporting the undesirable who seem bent on destroying all society and our present form of Government.

Congress has set a wholesome example for the country, when it went on record requiring policemen to remain free from any organization which might influence them to go on a strike, for the purpose of increasing their salaries. Every man, woman and child, regardless of their affiliation, has a right to the protection of the policemen and soldiers of our land.

Some seem to take a gloomy view of the future, because labor and capital were not able to agree at the recent conference in Washington. Others think that Congress can remedy all of these problems. A legislative body can make laws, but what is most needed, at the present time, is not a law giving the influence of the teachings of the Prince of Peace. Capital must think less of dividends and more of the rights of man, who is his part-

AMUSEMENTS

ORPHEUM

There's "some show" at the Orpheum for the first half of this week. Members of all three audiences at Lima's popular vaudeville playhouse, Tuesday laughed until their sides must have ached, applauded until the palms of their hands must have burned, forgot full care in its entirety and gave themselves up wholly to a most enjoyable hour and a half, while the five big-time acts, making up the program, were presented.

It would be difficult to mention just which act "first-nighters" liked the best, because each had a different appeal and all won instant and complete success. There is not a full spot on the bill and it lived up to every advance claim of excellence.

The show opens with a magnificently staged offering by Ward and Dooley, a man and girl who dip into most every branch of entertainment for their material. They sing and they dance, too, and they throw lariats in true wild and wooly western style. They execute sensational acrobatic and gymnastic feats and they perform some thrilling stunts on the bicycle and they do half a dozen other things, too, but just enough of each to make one wish for more and, taken together, constituting an act which should cause patrons of the Orpheum to "get a move on" and be present for their fifteen minutes of entertainment.

Because those who tarry on the way, arrive late and miss this act are going to miss something that's really worth while—a genuine treat.

Next come Mowatt and Mullin, they are a girl and a boy. The boy is clean and clever and talented and good looking. The girl is more than good looking—she is a "peach." And each is thoroughly accomplished and dispenses a most delectable brand of thorough enjoyment.

Third on the program are, Logan, Dunn and Hazel, with a comedy novelty of established merit and they are a great big hit, too.

Folsom and Brown, another man and girl, are fourth. They are a "knock-out." Miss Folsom is one of those little ladies you just can't

HUSTLING NOW PREVENTS DISAPPOINTMENT LATER

The Contestants Go in to Win With the Proper Amount of Energy Will Be Sure To Win Out—Don't Fail For the Extra Votes This Week.

FOR NEW SUBSCRIPTIONS ONLY

Beginning with Friday, October 24, and ending Thursday night, October 30, NEW subscriptions will count as follows: On the first five New Subscriptions you secure, I will double the regular number of votes. Every one after the first five will count TRIPLE or three times the regular scale. If any one contestant secures a string of 25 new subscribers between the above mentioned dates, the entire 25 will be counted triple. This means simply this: If you get only 3 or 4 NEW subscribers, you will receive no extra votes, but if you get 5 new ones, then the regular scale will be doubled. Ten new ones, would mean double votes on 5 and triple on 5, etc. If you get a string of 25 new ones, they would count just three times the regular scale. Thus offer if figured out is smaller than last week, or any previous week, and it is larger than will ever be given again. Now is your time to hustle for new ones.

FOR OLD SUBSCRIPTIONS

From Friday October 24 to Thursday, October 30 OLD subscriptions will count as follows. For $12 in OLD Sub. (only) 6,000 EXTRA votes will be allowed. For $15 in OLD Sub. (only) 9,000 EXTRA votes will be allowed. For $20 in OLD Sub. (only) 12,000 EXTRA votes will be allowed. For $45 in OLD Sub. (only) 25,000 EXTRA votes will be allowed.

close have several been running. You yourself know whether you stand a chance or not. You know how you have worked and what has been your results

Now it is a matter of getting down to your hardest work or some of you will be sadly mistaken at the finish.

No one has the prize or prizes won yet, and it will take the hardest kind of work from now until November 20, for any single candidate to come out a winner, for the FIRST GRAND PRIZE is always in doubt until the last moment. Better make up your mind to do something big from now until the close or some "dark horse" will breeze in on the home stretch with a large bundle of reserve votes and beat you for the BIG PRIZE. The extra vote off this week, is your chance—don't fail for it. Go after them hard. If you don't, you will lose.

WAPWHAT COAL MINING STRIKE IN OHIO IS SURE TO BRING ON

Industry and Trade Will Suffer to an Alarming Extent.

FIGURES AS SHOWN

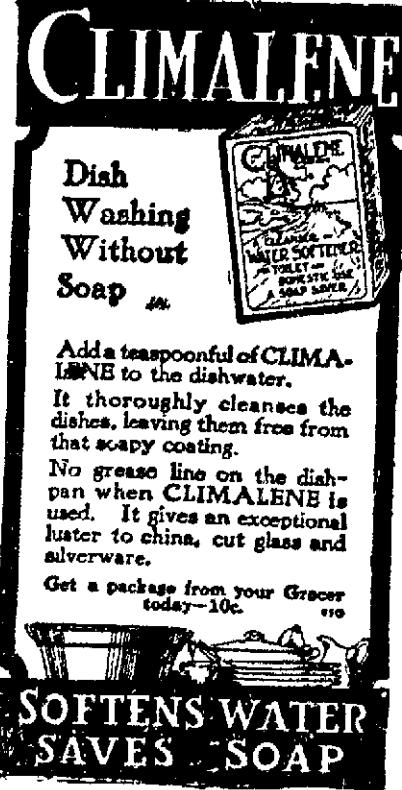

Hope Expressed That Trouble Will End Thru Federal Aid.

COLUMBUS, Oct. 28.—Scheduled strike November 1 of bituminous coal miners, will affect more than 10,000 miners in Ohio, will shut down more than 1,200 mines in 11 of the 12 Ohio counties and will do an average daily production of nearly 2,000,000 tons of bituminous coal. A strike of any duration will work hardship upon dom. co. consumers, residents gathered by state bureaus from all districts indicating that principal plants of the utilities and industries are prepared to weather a strike of considerable duration and have enough to sustain them to the day of the coal miners' strike. State institutions are particularly well supplied, nearly all having enough coal on hand to last at least a month.

Last week's mild weather has been followed by cold weather in the lack of demand on the part of householders. During the war many of the large coal companies heavily stocked coal to have reserve supplies upon which to depend during the threatened strike. When the strike order was issued a week ago, a great spurt in orders from domestic consumers throughout the state was reported, but a serious shortage of coal blew off deliveries. The recent order of the United States coal administration requiring all cars of coal to be unloaded within 24 hours is expected however to somewhat relieve the coal shortage situation and increase domestic deliveries before November first.

Business to Suffer
Not only will many thousands of miners in Ohio be made idle by enforcement of the strike order, but business is expected to suffer not alone from the absence of coal but from the stopping of circulation of several hundreds of thousands of dollars a day representing the difficulties of Ohio miners which will automatically stop the minute the strike begins.

Pelham County will be more seriously affected directly by the threatened strike than any other Ohio district, having the largest coal production of the state. Jefferson, Athens, Guernsey, Perry and Hocking Counties are next in order in coal production. The 1,122 registered mines in Ohio furnish slightly over six per cent of the total annual coal production of the United States. Ohio ranking fourth in coal production. Pennsylvania leads with 14,000,000 tons and West Virginia a

OHIO GUARD RANKS WITH ANY IN U. S. LAYTON DECLARES

Adjutant General Reports Force Better Organized Than Majority.

LIMA CAVALRY IS IN

Cincinnati Man May Head the Division Under New Ruling.

COLUMBUS, Oct. 26.—The national guard of Ohio is as well organized as that of any state in the union, and better organized than most.

This is the judgment of Adj. Gen. Roy E. Layton, who has returned from a convention of state adjutant generals, of which he was chosen secretary-treasurer.

"Many states have not started to reorganize at all, and some states will wait until congress enacts legislation outlining the military policy of the country," Gen. Layton said.

"Many states say there is a small proportion of men who saw service abroad entering the guard now. There is a belief, however, that sentiment will change and that enlistments soon will start to come in."

Federal Control.

"There seems to be but little chance for any of the three military bills now before congress to pass.

The legislation the national guard seems to want provides for a standing army of 250,000 and for a national guard of 500,000. The guard, however, would be under control of a separate militia bureau, responsible only to the secretary of war, and not to the general staff or the regular army.

"It would be in a status analogous to that of the marine corps, and this, it appears, would satisfy the guard officers. There will be no military legislation enacted at this session of congress, in all probability."

One complete division has been allotted to Ohio of the sixteen infantry division of national guard troops to be raised. The Ohio division will be known as the Thirty-seventh, keeping the name of the Buckeye combat unit that went overseas.

Sufficient appropriation has been made for only a part of the division, and hence, no divisional organization has been attempted. National guard officers discharged from the service are eligible to accept commissions one grade higher than they held when discharged.

Cincinnati Man May Head Unit.

Under this ruling former Brig. Gen. S. B. Stanbery, Cincinnati, is likely to be considered in the naming of a major general of the Ohio unit. Mr. Stanbery went overseas commandant the 145th infantry, the Cleveland and northern Ohio organization, and was promoted to brigade commander immediately after the first phase of the Argonne offensive and placed in command of a brigade in the Seventy-eighth or "Lightning" division of national army troops.

Col. B. W. Hough, of Delaware, who commanded the 166th infantry, the Ohio unit in the Forty-Second or "Rainbow" division, is the only colonel of infantry named so far for the two regiments of this branch of the service that Ohio has been ordered to raise. When the two regiments are completed, Col. Hough will be eligible to be named brigade commander of what then will be the Seventy-third infantry brigade. In that event he probably will be succeeded by Lieut. Col. Frank Henderson, Maysville, who served on the general staff during the war. Col. Henderson was a major in the 166th infantry and is a graduate of the army staff college.

Of the three cavalry troops authorized, one already has been mustered in at Lima. Another will be formed at Cincinnati. An entire regiment of field artillery will be formed, with batteries probably at Cleveland, Columbus, Youngstown, Canton, Dayton and Cincinnati. One battalion of heavy artillery, 155 motorized, also will be formed.

KIWANIANS HEAR ABOUT NEW PLANT

Melvin Light Tells of New Filtration Plant and Reservoirs.

An interesting talk on the Lima reservoirs and new filtration plant was a feature of the regular weekly meeting and noonday luncheon of the Kiwanis Club, held Tuesday, at the Norval Hotel. The talk was given by Melvin C. Light, city solicitor. Following Mr. Light's address, Miss Pauline Sage, of New York, a national field secretary of the Y. W. C. A., who is in Lima on business, outlined the work which is to be started here shortly.

Eighty members attended today's meeting, which was one of the largest meetings since the club's organization several months ago. Guests were: Albert Smith and R. E. Palmer, both Kiwanians of Marion, Ohio; A. N. Chuler of New York; J. H. Haflich of Wooster; A. R. Taylor of Philadelphia; Dr. Yeager of Leipsic; George Bayly and Dr. T. R. Thomas.

Owing to the election next Tuesday the regular meeting has been postponed until the following Thursday.

Portugal Cannot Let U. S. Have New Naval Base

MADRID, October 28.—Objections by third power, led to the refusal of Portugal to grant the United States a naval base in the Azores, according to information received here in well informed circles.

Senhor Cardoso, premier of Portugal, in a statement to THE ASSOCIATED PRESS, Monday, denied the truth of reports that Portugal had granted the United States the right to establish a naval base in the Azores. He hinted that the United States had not asked for such a concession but said it would have been impossible to have granted it as it would give the United States a dominating position in the archipelago.

HOLD 4 MEN FOR PLOTTING TO KIDNAP HENRY FORD'S SON

TOLEDO, O., Oct. 28.—Statements of a private detective that he had discovered a plot to kidnap Edsel Ford, son of Henry Ford, and hold him for $200,000 ransom, led to the arrest here today of four men.

The informant gives his name as Floyd Gray and he says he came to Toledo from the east in connection with strike disorders and became aware of the plot while stopping at a local hotel.

The prisoners are Richard Ramsey, San Francisco; Eddie Cole, alias Kinney, Louisville, Ky.; Joseph Fisher, New York City and Claude Cameron of Toledo.

Gray claims to be an operative of the Burns Detective Agency, and he says Kinney revealed the plot to seize young Ford and imprison him in a house in Mount Clemens, Mich. Gray posed as a janitor during plans for the kidnapping he says.

Church, will address a noonday meeting, Wednesday at the Garfield plant, and another on Thursday at the L. E. and W. One third of the new membership goal which is 100, has already been reached, and it is expected that the desired number will have been obtained at the close of the revival the latter part of this week. Tuesday night Rev. Reed will speak on "The Greatest Thing That Has Ever Come To Lima."

About 100 members and delegates are expected to be in attendance at the annual convention of the Ohio State Christian Association, which opens Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the First Christian church, corner of Elm and West streets. The convention which is held every year, was to have convened in Lima this year last year, but owing to the influenza epidemic being at its height here at that time, it was postponed until this year.

Tuesday night's address will be delivered by Rev. William J. Dawson, president of Antioch College, Yellow Springs. A short program will also be given this evening. Wednesday afternoon Dr. Frank H. Peters, of Greenville, Ohio, will be the principal speaker. Wednesday evening a symposium of fraternal greetings will be given by the various ministers of the city. In the absence of Rev. Stiles for the Baptists; and in the absence of Rev. Canby, Minor L. Bates, will speak for the Church of Christ. Several other speakers are yet to be appointed.

On Thursday evening the address will be delivered by Dr. Herman Eldridge, a former Y. M. C. A. worker at Camp Dix, New Jersey. The convention will close Thursday evening.

TO THE VOTERS OF LIMA

For several reasons I have deemed it advisable to address you in the interest of our Lima Public Schools which roughly speaking involves an investment of two or more millions of dollars in an enterprise to educate YOUR children.

This is a public enterprise and YOU have a voice in choosing the directors of it.

I have been duly nominated at the primaries as a candidate for one of these directorships and since certain acrimonious and misleading statements about the school personnel have been made to the public, I choose to present to you the principles of my platform.

In the first place I am not pledged to support nor release of any of the present school personnel. Tenure of office should be based wholly on their record of merits as disclosed to the Board of Education.

If elected I promise to give the best attention I possibly can to constructive efforts with the least destructive results and with as little expense to the tax payer as possible to maintain a maximum of efficiency which will compare with any school of equal equipment.

I will treat the educational enterprise much the same as I would a manufacturing enterprise if I were to make a change in my vocation, i.e., I would first pick the good features already established and build thereon, thus eliminating the bad ones as the good features replace them.

I have the same conviction about school officials and teachers that I have about foremen and men in a manufacturing plant, i.e., the efficiency of an organization is increased by the length of service of each employee if that service is correctly guided and properly acknowledged.

I am seeking to be one of those to guide these services in the public schools and if above layout of principles appeal to you I would thank you for your support.

Respectfully yours,
ELVIN D. ARNOLD,
Candidate for Schoolboard.

ST. MARYS

ST. MARYS SOLDIERS
AT AKRON ARMORY

ST. MARYS, Oct. 28.—Company K, Second Infantry, care the Armory, Akron. The foregoing words give the present address of the St. Marys military unit. The address came today in a telegram sent by Capt. Emil F. Marx, commanding Company K. It is probably uncertain how long the St. Marys command will stay in Akron. It is expected they will be sent ultimately to Canton in connection with a steel strike. Any mail sent to the above address will be forwarded from Akron in the event the Company leaves before receiving the mail. A press dispatch says troops assembled are ready to move at an hour's notice.

A rest room was "initiated" at noon today at the Delsel-Wemmer cigar factory. This equipment has been in the course of preparation for some little time and was first in readiness today. A player piano is an item of entertainment. The musical instrument was in action during the noon hour furnishing harmony for a dance. The rest apartment includes space for a lunch room. A program of repair and re-decorating is in progress at the Delsel-Wemmer factory.

Saturday afternoon, Amos J. Gehrt of Salem township, is a member of a party of fifteen Auglaize county citizens left on a 330-mile automobile journey to Hagerstown, Maryland, to attend the Farmers' National Congress, October 26-31.

The delegation went by train to Columbus and thence in automobiles via the Old National pike to Hawkenstown. S. A. Brookhart and several members of his family, former St. Marys citizens now in charge of an extensive fruit farm near Buckland, are members of the Auglaize county contingent.

In this way the routes traveled by the birds are learned. A wild duck bearing an aluminum leg band placed by Mr. Oster was recently killed by Perry Stimmel near Waynesfield. The leg band was inscribed with Oster's name and address and the date of October 19, 1918.

Another duck trapped by H. S. Oster at Lake Sengg, Ontario, and later released, was killed by Harry Moier, near Marine City, Michigan.

Drive away those persistent enemies of happiness—biliousness and constipation. no backward step in Ohio on the dry question.

Mrs Lemuel T. Lemunyon, a most highly esteemed resident of the city, died Sunday afternoon, of cancer of the liver at her home on East Crawford street. The deceased, whose maiden name was Charity E. DOUGHBOYS EVERYWHERE ARE PULLING FOR MARTIN

Champion of the A. E. F. Will Meet Joe Bonds in Akron Tuesday Night, and is Confident of Winning.

It can be veraciously stated that national interest is being manifested in the outcome of the fifteen-round bout between Bob Martin and Joe Bonds at Akron Tuesday night. Not from a fistic standpoint so much as a putting to the test of the capabilities of a soldier boxer whose achievements overseas won for him the plaudits and praise of two million doughboys. Bob came back from the other side a popular hero. The returning warriors refused to become excited over the downfall of Jess Willard and the uplift of Jack Dempsey. "Just wait till Bob starts banting and then you'll see a real champion!" were the words with which they dismissed the heavyweight problem from their minds. Young Martin himself, however, remained singularly quiet. No one can accuse him of having tried to capitalize his war experiences in the prize ring.

His return home was unannounced and unheralded by flaring headlines. It was quite by accident that his presence was discovered in Akron by a newspaper man who induced him to tell the story of his war achievements in the historic inter-allied tourney. Bob's most fervent boosters are the lads who wore the khaki of Uncle Sam. These boys are mostly all back in their respective homes, back in civies again and once more following the pursuits of the ordinary being.

But they haven't forgot that Martin proved himself the greatest individual fighting machine of all the armies who helped crush the Hun in the most fearful struggle of all time. And these boys whose places of peaceful residence range from the described coast of Maine to the sun-kissed shores of the Pacific will be cheering for him when he steps out to fight his first real professional battle against the veteran Bonds this week.

The keen interest the former soldiers are taking in the affair is evidenced by the closeness with which they are following preliminary incidents leading up to the actual meeting. The other day we Bluffton Team Will Be Brought Here At a Later Date, Says Manager.

Weather man permitting, next Sunday a crack football eleven will stack up against Costello's aggregation at Murphy street ball park, according to information given out last night. Just what the line up of this Columbus Grove outfit is can not be stated as no information as to that has been received.

The local eleven will enter the grounds will practically the same line up as was to have used last Sunday against Bluffton, with the exception of Don Rayne who leaves this week for the Texas oil fields.

It was announced last night by the local management that Bluffton will be brought here at a very near date.

PLAN CAMPAIGN TO HALT CANCER DEATHS IN OHIO

State Committee Reports 4792 Persons Died of Malaria in State 1918.

CAN BE PREVENTED

Educational Drive Will Discourage Use of Quack Methods.

COLUMBUS.—Four thousand seven hundred and ninety-two men and women in the prime of life died of cancer in Ohio in 1918, according to the records of Dr. John E. Monger state registrar if vital statistics.

Asserting that fully two-thirds of these deaths were avoidable through proper medical and surgical attention to cancer, and claiming that the cancer mortality rate can be reduced more than one-half through proper education of a general public, the committee on control of cancer of the Ohio State Medical association soon will launch an intensive, statewide educational campaign. According to Dr. Andre Crotti of Columbus, chairman of the committee, the campaign will embrace not only instructions of the general public, but specialized instruction for the medical profession, nurses and medical students, so that cancer may be more effectively combated and thousands of lives saved each year.

Attacks Young and Old

On a pro rata basis of population Ohio's 4792 cancer deaths last year according to Dr. Crotti, mean that there were fully 55,000 deaths from cancer in the United States in 1918, and over 1,500,000 in the entire world.

No disease known to medical science snuffs out lives quicker nor instills more morbid fear in the general public than cancer. Particular stress is to be placed upon the fact that cancer does not make old, decrepit or immature persons its prey, but plucks men and women from the prime of life.

It is the sole aim of the Ohio committee on control of cancer to educate the public to the danger of delay in cancer cases and the imperativeness of consulting competent physicians immediately upon the discovery of suspected cancer symptoms.

Baby's Finger Prints Do Not Mar Decoration

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—Baby finger prints on the wall paper are the finest example of mural art. This was the decision handed down in the Bronx municipal court by Justice Robitzek in dismissing a suit to recover alleged damages because a baby had embellished the interior decorations of an apartment by a frieze all its own.

"This would be a happier world to live in" the justice said. "If baby fingers could only make their imprint on the hearts of men and women, I would rather see the print of baby fingers on the walls of my house than have them adorned with the world's masterpieces."

SHIP IS NOW SAFE
BALTIMORE, Md., Oct. 28.—The wooden steamship Lewistown, reported by radio yesterday in distress off Smith's Island, Va., is in no danger according to the Terminal Shipping Company, agent of the vessel here. Advises to the agent said the ship had boiler trouble and that tugs had been sent to her assistance from Norfolk.

Orders Safe, Sane Hallowe'en
SANDUSKY, Oct. 28.—Hallowe'en must be "safe and sane" in Sandusky. Chief of Police A. C. Weingate ordered patrolmen to arrest and hold on charges of disorderly conduct, all who stoop to rowdiness in celebrating.

Perfect, Pearly Teeth

If you do the saliva must be alkaline. Nature intended it so in order to help digest your food. Many people unknowingly suffer with acid mouth, decay sets in, the enamel of the teeth is attacked, the gums recede, frequently bleed and the teeth become yellow. To counteract these disagreeable conditions, use

Keltner's Specialty Prepared Chlorate of Potash Tooth Paste in time and you will have perfect pearly teeth, hard gums, the enamel will be protected and the natural alkaline condition of the mouth will be restored. Price of large sized tube, 35c. For sale only at the toms; also to educate the laity to the advisability on immediate operations for removal of cancer, and to dispel the widespread fear existing of the operating table and the anæsthetic. Use of "quick" remedies will be discouraged as much as possible, it being stated by the committee that such so-called remedies more often kill than do the cure in cancer cases.

Campaign Methods

Associated with Dr. Crotti in the campaign direction will be Dr. Charles W. Moots of Toledo and Dr. Charles E. Holzer, of Gallipolis. All of leading medical authorities in each community will be enlisted. Lecturers will be sent broadcast, to appear before women's societies, men's clubs and as many public gatherings as possible, to enlighten the people of Ohio upon the subject of cancer.

HOME-MADE WATER FILTER

To make a cheap water filter take a large garden-pot and stop the hole in the bottom by placing a piece of sponge in it. Cover with a few inches of powdered charcoal, fill with water, and let it stand over a pail or tub supported by two or three sticks laid across. The water filtering through the charcoal will be freed from all impurities and will be fit for family use. The charcoal should be changed every three months and the sponge several times a year.

BURKHARDT, BLANK OR BOSSES
This is the issue which will be presented to the voters of South Lima, at a meeting to be held, Tuesday night, at 707 South Main street. That this will be the most enthusiastic of any political gathering, staged during the present municipal campaign, is acknowledged by the Democratic leaders, who are looking forward to a crowd which will not only tax the capacity of the hall, but will be jammed out into the streets.

Frank Burkhardt, candidate for Mayor, and all the other candidates on the Democratic ticket will be present and the meeting is certain to crystallize the sentiment for Burkhardt, campaign leaders say:

Voters are becoming convinced hourly, that Burkhardt is the only man that can carry the city against Socialism. Despite the bug-a-boo of the Ohio Electric which the G. O. P., is holding over his head, voters are not going to be fooled. Mr. Burkhardt has repeatedly pointed out that he was simply a working man in the employ of the Ohio Electric, and never an executive.

This together with the fact that Lima has been his home, the greater part of his life, together with the 500 relatives whom he has residing in Allen county, has convinced the voters that the Ohio Electric will receive the same treatment as any other corporation.

Despite the terrible rain and storm Monday night, candidates on the Democratic ticket were on hand for the meeting to be held at J. J. Haage, 1330, North Cole street. However as the rain prevented any turnout, McClain, candidate for City Solicitor and Brotherton, candidate for Justice of Peace, were forced to beat their way back through the storm.

EX-SOLDIERS MAY GET MEDICAL CARE

Any discharged enlisted man who thinks he is in need of medical attention, treatment or hospital care, can have the same free of charge if he will communicate with the local Red Cross chapter, after which he will be referred to the medical examiner for this district, Dr. Klor Parent. The only question to be decided is whether he became ill, diseased or wounded, while in military service. If his ill health is traceable to the months spent in service, he may secure medical attention.

Applicants must first appear at the Red Cross rooms, Chamber of Commerce building, after which they will be sent to Dr. Klor Parent, where they will be cared for after presenting their discharge certificates.

MACHINE RATTLES WORSE THAN THAT LAST YEAR'S CAR

Famous Gale-Methaney
Simpson Engine is Hitting on One Cylinder.

LIKE ONE HORSE SHAY

Rumored That Gale and Harley Are Remaining at Loggerheads.

W. P. W. P. meaning "WE POINT WITH PRIDE," the slogan of the G. O. P. during the Mayoralty race, is on the verge of being changed to W. P. W. P. meaning "WE PART WITH PARTY," judging from the latest information coming from Republican headquarters.

According to those who claim to know because of their presence at the meeting, a virtual ultimatum was served on the Machine leaders Friday night, by the wing of the party, headed by Carl Rowlands. This group of Republicans. It is stated has served notice on Harley, that they will not back him, as long as he hangs with the Gale-Methaney-Simpson crowd.

This is not only fire which is smouldering within the ranks of the G. O. P. Information gleaned from the same sources as that regarding the first outbreak, has it that a near-row was participated between Gale and Harley, Sunday night.

However, the republican press has been keeping mum about the affair and very little information has leaked out of headquarters as to what is really back of the entire mix-up. Every effort is being made by the Machine to stifle the outbreak. What agreement was reached by Gale and Harley is not known, except that the old machine almost blew all four tires, as it headed around the curve on the home stretch. Despite the fact that thing on the surface is as calm as the Dead Sea, those who know claim that fireworks, which will wreck the party, are likely to be set off at any moment.

With the Rowlands split in the ranks, widening into a breach large enough to drive an automobile through, and with the big boss and his favorite on the outs, all hopes of even making a decent showing are being abandoned by even those few who had intended sticking true to the gang.

Sugar Famine
Does Not Worry
Hospital Inmates

It doesn't make much difference to the more than 1,000 patients and employees of the Lima state hospital how great a sugar famine exists outside of their little world, for there is a splendid supply of both cane and beet sugar at the local institution to last for some time yet, according to Dr. Charles Clark, superintendent.

L. V. Lyons, Columbus state purchasing agent, saw several months ago an apparent shortage of the sugar supply for this fall and winter, with possible delays in making shipments and placed his order for nearly a half dozen carloads, to supply the larders of the various institutions where more than 23,000 persons are housed.

Likewise the coal situation this winter will not affect the Lima hospital, as they have on hand now more than 2,000 tons of coal which will last until the latter part of February. From 25 to 30 tons of coal are daily used at this large institution in the mammoth furnaces and heating plants.

WILLIAM J. BRYAN HOPE TO SEE THE WHOLE WORLD ARID

"Great Commoner" Intimated That Much In His Talk Here.

OHIO LEADS IN MOVE

Tells How To Distinguish
Ballots When Vote Is Polled.

"I hope now to live to see the day when there will not be a saloon under the flag of any civilized country in the world," said William Jennings Bryan, in an address to a audience which filled Memorial Hall, Monday evening despite the terrific rain storm which raged. "It is up to the voters to drive out of office at the ballot-box all who are unfaithful to their trust," said the great commoner speaking in favor of absolute enforcement of the prohibition laws.

The announcement of the victory of the prohibition enforcement bill in the House over the President's veto was announced during the evening, and Bryan predicted the bill would become a law before noon Tuesday, as he stated, the Senate could be expected to pass it by even a greater majority than did the house. It was predicted there will be a dry plank in both the Democratic and Republican platforms at the coming presidential election, as he stated, the prohibition movement has reached such a stage that neither can afford to go into the field without it.

"The dry issue has been the great factor in cementing the two parties together in a united effort," he said. "There was a time when the Democratic party was known as the whiskey party, but now it has an equal share of the credit for adopting this great human issue."

"More than half the states ratifying the dry amendment were states which cast their electoral vote for a Democratic president," he continued.

Special stress was laid on the fact that Ohio is the leader in the prohibition movement, and the one which will most greatly affect the action of other states. "If Ohio goes wet," he said, "the Liquor interests will capitalize it in their campaign by saying that prohibition being turned down by the great leader in the prohibition movement is sufficient evidence of its failure."

A detailed explanation of the Ohio ballot was made, in which the speaker says it is one of the most confusing he has ever seen. "It is easy to remember how to vote however, if you use a simple method of association of ideas," he stated.

THE LONG AND SHORT OF IT.

To Bryan is to be credited the simplest formula for remembering how to vote the puzzling prohibition ballots. It is worth repeating often between now and election day, for the benefit of those who find themselves confused by the multiplicity of questions which the wets have insisted on bringing to the polls.

There are two prohibition ballots, each containing two issues. Each voter is to record his yes or no upon each of the four issues.

One ballot is short. The other ballot is long. Yes is a longer word than no.

Here is the rule, then, to remember:

Give the long answer on the long ballot. Give the short answer on the short ballot. In other words, vote "yes" upon each issue on the long ballot, and vote "no" on each issue of the short ballot.

Long ballot, long word, ballot, short word. This is the way to keep the saloon out of Ohio.

The Bryan party traveled by automobile and had come distance of over 150 miles when it arrived in Lima to end a fourteen hour day of travel and speech making.

The speaker sat in a chair to deliver the first part of his lecture

CELLARS FLOODED BY HEAVY RAIN

Street Cars Are Also Tied Up For More Than Two Hours.

The hardest rainstorm of the season raged for two hours Monday evening commencing about seven o'clock and flooding the streets of the entire city, crippling car service and filling the cellars of houses in the lower sections of the city.

The car service was practically tied up from 7:30 to 9 o'clock on the Main and Kirby street lines and the West Market and South Main street lines.

The storm broke with such suddenness that hundreds were caught in the downtown districts with only the doorways and awning for protection and no available means of transportation to get to their homes.

A squad of men worked for hours opening the mouths of sewers in an attempt to dispose of the water but their work was to no avail in the face of such a terrific storm, and it was long after the storm had subsided when the streets were cleared of water.
